FIVE YEARS OF BIG STEPS WITH BIGFOOT – THANKS FOR EVERY ONE OF THEM!

This month marks a huge milestone for Bigfoot Construction Supply—we're celebrating 5 incredible years of serving our hardworking customers! Since opening our doors on March 9th, 2020, we've faced challenges, grown stronger, and built lasting relationships with all of you. Through the COVID days and an unpredictable economy, your loyalty and trust have allowed us to thrive and expand, and for that, we can't thank you enough.

Bigfoot Construction Supply was created to meet the demands of the Puget Sound construction culture. From the very beginning, our mission has been clear—our customers come first. Every relationship we build starts with trust: trust in exceptional service, competitive pricing, and guaranteed satisfaction. It is through these strong relationships that we continue to grow and establish ourselves as a leader in the construction supply business.

As a locally owned company, we are proud to uphold the tradition of providing top-quality products at the lowest possible prices. Bigfoot Construction Supply was founded on the belief that there is a better and faster way to serve our customers. Each and every one of you is our number one priority, and we are committed to delivering the individual, concierge-level service that you have come to expect from us.

To show our appreciation, we've partnered with DeWalt and Makita Tools to bring you exclusive anniversary promotions—flyers will be coming out on our website and via email on March 9th. Get ready for some unbeatable deals on power tools and accessories. Don't miss out on these savings while supplies last!

WORK ANNIVERSARIES

Honoring the Founding Four: Celebrating the Visionaries of Bigfoot Construction Supply!

Kurt Wagner, Founder and CEO of Bigfoot Construction Supply, started this company with a simple but powerful idea: there had to be a better and faster way to service construction customers in the Pacific Northwest. With each customer treated as the number one priority, Kurt brought a concierge-like level of service that our clients have come to expect and rely on.

With deep roots in the construction supply world—both from his hands-on experience in the field and years of success in outside sales—Kurt's leadership style is built on integrity, hard work, and a personal connection and love for this industry. He's never been afraid to get his hands dirty and is truly in this journey with his team. Kurt's vision has led to a company that we're all proud of, and his gratitude extends to every customer who has supported Bigfoot Construction Supply over these five incredible years.

Brian Howe

If you know Bigfoot Construction Supply, you know Brian Howe. As the mastermind behind our inside sales team and purchasing operations, Brian's influence stretches across every part of our business. With over 40 years of experience in the construction supply industry, his knowledge is unmatched—you likely know him as the construction supply almanac or simply "Biggie."

Brian is a relationship-building pro and serves as a mentor to the next generation of workers at Bigfoot. His ability to foster strong partnerships and nurture customer relationships has been a cornerstone of our success. Brian's leadership, dedication, and wisdom continue to set the standard for excellence in our industry.

Matthew Dammeier

Matthew has bled for the company since the early days of warehouse work and deliveries to becoming a trusted outside salesman, Matthew Dammeier has done it all for Bigfoot Construction Supply. Matt was one of the original team members on the ground, helping to spread the message of who we are and what we stand for. His commitment to transparency, problem-solving, and exceptional customer service makes him a go-to contact for many of our loyal clients.

Matt's contributions have helped shape Bigfoot into the brand it is today, and we're incredibly fortunate to have him representing our company out in the field.

Chris Merkt

Chris has worn many hats at Bigfoot Construction Supply, from warehouse work and deliveries to becoming an essential part of our outside sales team. Chris Merkt's dedication, hands-on experience, and deep understanding of customer needs have made him an invaluable asset since the beginning.

Customers know that when they reach out to Chris, they'll receive honest guidance and actionable solutions. His role in building the Bigfoot brand cannot be overstated, and his continued efforts help drive our commitment to excellence every single day.
