Celebrating 6 Years of Bigfoot Construction Supply

On March 9th, 2020, Bigfoot Construction Supply opened the doors of our very first location in Tukwila, WA. This month, we are incredibly proud to celebrate 6 years of serving the hardworking contractors and tradespeople who make the Northwest what it is.

Over the past six years, we've weathered challenges, navigated the uncertainty of the COVID era, and adapted through an unpredictable economy. We expanded with a new location in Kent to better serve the south end, and ultimately made the decision to close our original Tukwila store and move closer to Seattle – into a larger facility designed to better support your growing supply needs.

Through every chapter, one thing has remained constant: your loyalty and trust. Because of you, we've been able to grow, expand, and strengthen our commitment to this industry. For that, we can't THANK YOU enough.

Bigfoot Construction Supply was built to meet the demands of the Northwest's construction culture. From day one, our mission has been clear – our customers come first. Every relationship starts with trust: trust in exceptional service, competitive pricing, and guaranteed satisfaction. That foundation continues to drive us forward as we establish ourselves as a leader in the construction supply business across the region.

As a locally owned company, we believe there is a better and faster way to serve contractors. Each of you is our number one priority, and we remain committed to delivering the concierge-level service you've come to expect from Bigfoot.

Here's to six years – and many more ahead.

DEWALT®

Honoring the Founding Four: Celebrating the Visionaries of Bigfoot Construction Supply!

Kurt Wagner

Kurt Wagner, Founder and CEO of Bigfoot Construction Supply, started this company with a simple but powerful idea: there had to be a better and faster way to service construction customers in the Pacific Northwest. With each customer treated as the number one priority, Kurt brought a concierge-like level of service that our clients have come to expect and rely on.

With deep roots in the construction supply world, both from his hands-on experience in the field and years of success in outside sales, Kurt's leadership style is built on integrity, hard work, and a personal connection and love for this industry.

He's never been afraid to get his hands dirty and is truly in this journey with his team. Kurt's vision has led to a company that we're all proud of, and his gratitude extends to every customer who has supported Bigfoot Construction Supply over these five incredible years.

Brian Howe

If you know Bigfoot Construction Supply, you know Brian Howe, General Manager. As the mastermind behind our inside sales team and purchasing operations, Brian's influence stretches across every part of our business. With over 40 years of experience in the construction supply industry. His knowledge is unmatched—you likely know him as the construction supply almanac or simply "Biggie."

Brian is a relationship-building pro and serves as a mentor to the next generation of workers at Bigfoot. His ability to foster strong partnerships and nurture customer relationships has been a cornerstone of our success. Brian's leadership, dedication, and wisdom continue to set the standard for excellence in our industry.

WORK ANNIVERSARIES

Matthew Dammeier

Matthew Dammeier, Outside Sales has bled for the company since the early days of warehouse work and deliveries, to becoming a trusted outside salesman. Matthew Dammeier has done it all for Bigfoot Construction Supply. Matt was one of the original team members on the ground, helping to spread the message of who we are and what we stand for. His commitment to transparency, problem-solving, and exceptional customer service make him a go-to contact for many of our loyal clients.

Matt's contributions have helped shape Bigfoot into the brand it is today, and we're incredibly fortunate to have him representing our company out in the field.

Chris Merkt

Chris Merkt, Outside Sales has worn many hats at Bigfoot Construction Supply, from warehouse work and deliveries to becoming an essential part of our outside sales team. Chris Merkt's dedication, hands-on experience, and a deep understanding of customer needs have made him an invaluable asset since the beginning.

Customers know that when they reach out to Chris, they'll receive honest guidance and actionable solutions. His role in building the Bigfoot brand cannot be overstated, and his continued efforts help drive our commitment to excellence every single day.
